Cushing for Chief Justice.

The Administration journals in the East, that had no word of condemnation for the nomination of the politician Williams, are furious at the substitution of Cushing's name. This is no more than was to be expected. There is no position, in the eye of the regular political organ, that ought not to be used to reward a political manager, and no matter what the fitness of the man, he has not in his opinion, a particle of right to hold an office, unless he has rendered the appointing power, services in the caucus or on the stump. If he has manipulated the primaries successfully he may aspire to the Supreme bench or represent the nation in the proudest courts of the Old World, but if he has quietly gone about his business, and let the dirty herd of political shufflers alone, no matter how valuable his services to the world, he cannot receive the support of an "organ" for the humblest position. Caleb Cushing is probably one of the ablest and most profoundly learned men in the United States. The only strong objection to his appointment as Chief Justice lies in his great age, but he is still in vigorous health and the full enjoyment of his astonishing mental powers, and may hope to live several years to adorn the high position that has been tendered to him. We should have preferred the appointment of either Wm. M. Everts or Charles O'Connor, the two greatest lawyers of the nation who are yet in the full possession of manly vigor, and likely to continue for a long period of years to shed the lustre of their brilliant attainments on the jurisprudence of the United States. With a Supreme Bench composed of such men as these, the decisions of our highest Court would compel the respect of the whole world, and prove the surest bulwark of our liberties. But it is too much, probably, to expect the appointment of such men from an Executive who packed the Court with creatures like Strong; and we ought to be grateful for the happy chance that has brought about so good a thing as the nomination of Cushing.

The New Gas Company.

The gas men were in close consultation yesterday, and everything seems to be moving along favorably. The old Company seems willing to sell their works, taking stock in the new organization in payment, and if they will take a price that is reasonable, there is little doubt that the arrangements will all be made. Our leading business men appreciate the importance of having the right kind of works. The works of the old company, though they have cost a good deal, are so faultily constructed that they cannot produce a good quality of gas without too much expense, and new works will be built even if an amicable arrangement is made. A meeting will be held to-day at which all the preliminaries will be settled, and the necessary steps taken to perfect the organization. We think it highly important that our citizens should generally subscribe for the stock of this new company. If the stock is held in small quantities by the actual consumers of gas, the interest of producer and consumer would be the same, and we should have less of the contention that is so generally going on about the cost and quality of the gas. There are a good many consumers in this city who, under the present circumstances, pay from $250 to $500 per year, while a few even run up to $1,000. These bills can, by proper management, be reduced almost, if not quite one half, and the best way to insure this is for the men that are interested to take the stock, and thus control it themselves. If there is any profit in the manufacture of gas, and it is generally supposed to be a very remunerative business, the gain will accrue to those who have to use it. If the stock is generally distributed among our citizens, no one will have as much interest in the making of money by the company as he will in the production of a good article of gas, and in its being furnished at a low price. We therefore earnestly urge on all our business men the importance of giving their attention to this matter, and of making the new enterprise a complete success.

The editor of the Star publishes a low-fung and libelous statement about the proprietor of this paper, calling him by name, and in the same breath whines because the HERALD dishes up the little peculiarities of that journal and its editor. If the Star wishes to be let alone, let it say so, mend its disreputable ways, and stop abusing its neighbors.

We are indebted to Representative Higbee for a number of public documents of value, among them the transactions of the State Agricultural Society for 1870, '71 and '72, the Report of the State Board of Health, the Controller's, the Surveyor General's reports, and several others.

Greenbacks.

We have just received a letter from a subscriber in Michigan, commending our views on the greenback question, and making a few points that are worthy of consideration. Our correspondent thinks that Eastern people are not any too willing to sacrifice ten or twelve per cent. of their entire capital, after paying the exorbitant railroad fares required to get here, and goes on to say that if we want energetic men of small capital to settle in our State and help develop it, we must cease to levy such a tax on them for the privilege of becoming citizens.

He is right in assuming, as he does, our people that they cannot adopt the greenback currency a moment too soon. We are keeping population and capital out of the State, and subjecting ourselves to a heavy tax all the time. If the State will make all demands owing to or by it, payable in currency, it will not take very long to introduce the greenbacks everywhere. Capital would then flow in to be invested in our mines, our petroleum, manufactures, and farming, and an era of prosperity would be inaugurated, such as we have never before experienced. We need capital to develop our great agricultural and horticultural resources. We need manufactures, and there are a thousand other interests that capital alone will vivify, but instead of inviting capital by every means in our power, we elude to the metallic currency, and shut out the millions of Eastern funds that would otherwise flow in and be invested among us.

THE editor of the Star is down on his marrow bones praying for the removal of the HERALD. No wonder; this paper is badly in its way, but then we did not expect him to be candid enough to acknowledge it.

Accident to a Stage.

The Kern County Courier of 10th gives the following particulars of an accident to the stage, in crossing the Kern river:

The stage that left this place on the 3d inst. for Delano, met with a serious accident in crossing the river. When the ferryboat reached the middle of the stream the leaders of the stage team took fright, turned round and forced the whole team into a sudden retrograde movement that resulted in precipitating both stage and horses into the deep and rapid river. It happened to be one of those rare occasions when there were very few passengers. It happened that only two passengers were inside the stage, both active men, a third one having got out when the stage drove on the boat. The water was about six feet deep, with a bottom of quick sand. The stage rolled over and over, and was carried some distance down the stream. The passengers extricated themselves with difficulty, one being nearly drowned. One horse was drowned, and all would have been but for the bravery and presence of mind of some unknown individual on the opposite bank, who plunged in and making his way among the struggling horses, cut them loose with his knife in time to save them all but one. Assistance was procured from town as soon as possible and the stage extricated. A good deal of damage was of course done to baggage, express matter and the mails. Nothing of any importance was lost. One mail bag floated down stream and was not recovered until two days afterwards. It proved to be from Arizona. It was fortunate there were no ladies and children passengers. Had it been so their lives would have been inevitable. Only the day before there had been an unusual proportion of this kind of freight. The accident was the result of neglect in not closing the gates at the ends of the boat. The craft itself is one of the largest, strongest and safest of its kind, if the means of security it affords are availed of.

Mr. Thoms, representing the Stage Company, promptly paid all damages and satisfied everyone for services rendered, not forgetting a liberal remuneration to the man that saved the horses.

Mr. G. W. Bevis, of the Barnes settlement, gives us his experience the past year with alfalfa. The year previous he had sown two measured acres with this grass, but very thinly. That year he used it for grazing purposes. The past year, the grass standing rather thin, he mowed it twice for hay, and permitted the third crop to go to seed. The yield of hay was seven tons, netting him $10 per ton, and of seed 1,176 lbs, netting him 20 cents per pound, the whole crop of the two acres yielding a profit of $309.20. Besides he had of seed not clean enough for market, what has sufficed for him to sow ten acres, and a pair of colts grazed the little field all summer without perceptible damage to the crop. The yield of hay is very moderate, but that of seed is large. Still, without being extraordinary, the result is highly satisfactory as showing the ordinary circumstances, the profits that may be expected from this crop. The patch of alfalfa was never irrigated.—[Kern Co. Courier.]

Query.

EDS. HERALD:—A few days since I noticed in your paper the articles of incorporation of the Southern California Warehouse and Shipping Association, a company incorporated at Wilmington under provisions of an Act of the Legislature of California, entitled, "An Act to provide for the formation of corporations for certain purposes, April 14, in the year of our Lord 1853, and all Acts amendatory thereof, and supplementary thereto." In as much as that Act has been repealed by Section 288, of the Civil Code, except as the same relates to companies organized previous to the taking effect of the Codes, the query arises under what law did the Wilmington Company incorporate?

The coast line stage company, will, during the season change their road to their old line across the Conejo, saving twenty-five miles on the road to Los Angeles and return.

The Fresno Expressor says that on the 30th ult. a man traveling up the Fresno river, near the "Island," was stopped by two mounted Mexican highwaymen, and robbed of some fifty dollars. The man had just come to the State, and was engaged in hunting up some land for an Eastern colony, which thinks of settling here.

Bunker Hill.

A little over a year more, and the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill will take place. A little band of heroes, then inaugurated a struggle, which brought untold results. It is very fitting that their deeds should be commemorated. The nation at large is very justly arranging for a celebration on an extensive scale, of the centennial anniversary of this event. This will instill patriotic impulse into the souls of those of the coming generations, and prepares them for the struggles, which they, in life, must undergo. Overhanging Los Angeles is a hill similar to Bunker Hill—nay, it is larger. From it all the city can be seen, and the country for miles around. On this hill also, are military marks, the remnants of a fort, which was built for the protection of liberty in this State. This hill has an avenue running along its crest, and our friend Beaudry, through whose influence chiefly it has been opened, has very appropriately named it Bunker Hill avenue. The City Surveyor has been ordered to define the grades and lines of Olive, Charity, and Bunker Hill avenues, from Hill to Hope; Second street, and Temple street, from Hill to Hope. This will bring these lands within easy reach of the business part of the city. The distance to the Court House is less than it is from the Turners Hall.

Mr. Beaudry being the owner, by perfect and indisputable title, offers the following scheme, believing that it supplies a felt want.

His various tracts have been surveyed, and platted in lots of convenient size for residences, upwards of two hundred in number, and the maps, together with abstracts of title, are kept for public inspection at his office, opposite the Pico House.

Any person desiring to purchase can inspect the land, select his lot or lots, and acquire the same, if not previously taken up by another, upon the following terms: Purchasers not being restricted to a single lot.

The purchaser or his successor to pay the fixed price of the lands selected by him, in equal monthly installments, as follows: On lots valued at $400 and upwards, but not to exceed $500, $15 per month; on those valued at $300 and upwards, and less than $400, $10 per month. Payments in gold or currency, and no interest allowed. For cash in hand a reduction of fifteen per cent. will be made.

The purchaser to have immediate possession upon payment of the first installment and on execution and delivery of contract.

The right of the purchasers may be assignable by him, and his assigns to succeed to all his privileges and liabilities; standing in all respects towards the vendor as an original obligor.

Purchasers shall not be restricted to the payment of the installments as above shown, but may make payments in advance, and on all such payments he will allow one per cent. per month, from the date of payment until said payment would become due.

Upon selection of a lot or lots by a purchaser, and payment of the first installment, with five dollars, in U. S. gold coin, as expenses on the document, Mr. Beaudry with the purchaser, will execute and acknowledge a sealed agreement, embodying the above conditions; and, upon full payment according thereto, the purchaser, or his lawful representatives, on demand, a good and sufficient and absolute deed of conveyance of the contracted lands, in form of warranty against grantor, the grantee paying the cost of recording the same.

These proposals will be kept open until the 12th day of February, 1874. The location is very desirable. All that has heretofore been lacking is water, and that want is now fulfilled. Anywhere else, in as desirable location, no such ready command from $500 to $1,000 and even higher rates. This property is put at the astonishing low price of from $300 to $400. But this is not all. This may be paid in currency and a reduction of fifteen per cent. will be made for cash in hand.

Mr. Krassynski the accommodating landlord of the Lyon's Station Hotel, the headquarters of the party, did his utmost to make it pleasant to all during their stay. The vicinity of this station is an exceedingly picturesque one, and as healthy as it is beautiful. In returning, the party called at the Mission San Fernando, and at the invitation of Señor Don Andres Pico, the courtly and affable proprietor, visited the different apartments of the ancient, though well preserved mansion. General Pico has a rare collection of old relics, such as swords, guns, spurs, etc., used by the Indians and inhabitants of California during the latter part of the last century, the history of which, and the incidents connected with them, were quite interesting. The fine olive orchard which encircles the Mission buildings is probably the oldest and finest in America, and must be valuable property. After partaking of the choice wines and fruits, the party proceeded homeward, feeling that their brief sojourn at the Mission was one of pleasure and profit and with the impression that Señor Don Andres Pico was as "happy as a King."

Land Troubles in El Monte.

The Potrero Grande grant, in this county, has been the bone of contention for some time. It covers a large amount of land in El Monte, that for a considerable length of time has been in the possession of settlers who have sworn that they will not give it up, and that bloodshed will be the result of any attempt to dispossess them. About six months ago, in the suit of Temple and Sanchez against B. Newman and others, the plaintiffs, who are the owners of the grant, obtained judgement against the parties in possession, as trespassers on their lands, and an execution was issued and placed in the hands of Sheriff Rowland. The time allowed the defendants to give peaceable possession expired the other day, and the Sheriff went out Monday evening to remove them. He found Newman and others in the house, and so barricaded that it would be difficult to get at them. Returning to town, he made arrangements for a more vigorous campaign, and yesterday morning, accompanied by deputies Baldwin, Gabriel, and some others, he again went out to serve the writ. On approaching the house he found it still occupied by Newman and the party. As soon as the design of the Sheriff's party was plain to the inmates, they fired, inflicting a severe and probably dangerous wound in the breast and shoulder of Pete Gabriel. This hostile demonstration induced the Sheriff to return to town for more reinforcements. Calling out a posse he returned to the scene of hostilities determined to storm the fortress and carry out the mandate of the writ. In the meantime, frightened by the probable consequences of their unlawful resistance to the officers, the party in possession dropped the offensive and Newman, the principal in the affair, gave himself up to the Sheriff. He was brought to the city last evening and placed in jail. We understand that at a late hour Gabriel's wound was declared serious, and it was believed that he was bleeding inwardly.

The Dexter Saloon Robbery.

The officers have been busily engaged in ferreting out the particulars of the robbery of the Dexter saloon on Friday night, and on Monday night succeeded in arresting the perpetrators. A few days since Dave Cunningham was discharged from the county jail without a cent of money, and hence when drunk and spending his money freely, getting a twenty-dollar piece changed at Desmond's hat store, the suspicions of the police were aroused, and officer Hartlee at once set about watching him. Monday evening he was seen to enter the Los Angeles saloon on Los Angeles street and the officer passing around a corner soon found him in conversation with "Seven-up Joe," another suspicious character, and after listening a short time heard enough to convince him that Cunningham was the man who committed the burglary. Promptly arresting his men, he found seventy-six dollars of the money in Cunningham's possession. Seventy dollars of this, three twenties and a ten dollar piece in gold were in his hand when he was taken, and six dollars in silver change was found in his pockets. Cunningham was put in jail, but Joe was retained by Hartlee, and on a promise from the latter that he would let him off, Joe made a clean breast of the whole affair, and showed him where the remainder of the money was concealed. According to his statement Cunningham did the job alone, his only part being to stand at the door while Cunningham went in after the money. The remainder of the money was found buried in a field near the river, on First street. Officer Hartlee going with Joe to the place at about 2 o'clock at night. On digging up the coin, two sacks were found, one containing $202.75, and the other $78.59, making with the money found on Cunningham, $257.25, recovered. Cunningham declares that he spent about $50, and that this, together with the amount recovered is all that was taken, the story that $800 was stolen, and that three-fingered Jack had a part of the money, being according to him a mistake. Officer Hartlee is entitled to great credit for energy and sagacity in working up this case.

Mr. T. Brasse, M. P., an extensive employer, and an authority upon industrial matters, recently observed, in an address delivered in England, that "a strike against a falling market was never successful, and that trades unions, as organizations for the purpose of raising wages, could never do more than assist the workman to obtain an advance at a somewhat earlier date than that at which the competition among employers would have brought about the same result."

Some of the companies will dispatch two vessels on the same day one for cabin passengers and the other for steerage passengers. The ocean ferry traffic increases astonishingly.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.

There is bitter opposition to the confirmation of Caleb Cushing's nomination as Chief Justice. The common objections urged are only on political grounds. The chances are in favor of his confirmation. The New York Times denounces him as devoid of any fixed political principles.

The House opposes the increase of taxation. The Central Pacific Investigation—Cushing's Chances for Confirmation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.

Kelley's Convertible Bond Bill, is supported by only three out of eleven members of the Banking and Currency Committee, only four of whose members pronounce for inflation in any form. It is now apparent that the influence of the proper Committees in both branches of Congress will be adverse to inflation. Nevertheless the House, yesterday by a decided majority, expressed itself in favor of Kelley's financial scheme as a relief from increased taxation, and adopted a resolution declaring additional taxation unnecessary. If both positions are sustained there must be an immediate reduction of national expenditures or the Treasury will be bankrupt at a very early day.

Strenuous efforts are making to smother in the Pacific Railroad Committee, Luttrell's inquiry into the Central Pacific Contract and Finance proceedings.

The failure of Cushing's friends to secure an executive session yesterday, is justly construed as favorable to his nomination. Morton heads the opposition to the confirmation, but the entire Judiciary Committee favor it, although opposition constantly grows, and there seems to be little doubt that he will be confirmed despite the negative vote of decided majority of the Republican Senators.

NEW YORK, Jan. 12.

Great Meeting of Workmen—Riotous Proceedings.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.

This forenoon about 5,000 persons had assembled in Thompsons square. The police received orders to drive them out, and while doing it Sergeant Berghold was assaulted with a hammer by one Meyer, who with others was promptly arrested and lodged in the station house. He was ordered by the 10th ward Association to assault any policeman who molested him. Crowds are reported gathering at different points. The crowd that gathered in and about the square had banners of workmen's organizations.

As soon as Myer assaulted the officer, the policemen began a vigorous clubbing and clearing of the square. The most intense excitement prevailed and storekeepers made haste to put up their shutters and close their doors. One man who was clubbed is said to be dying. The mounted policemen have taken possession of the square.

The Santa Barbara Press

An Independent Newspaper,
Devoted to the Interests of Southern California.

J. A. JOHNSON, Editor and Proprietor.

AS THE CHARMING CHARACTER of Southern California, and more especially that most favored section called Santa Barbara, becomes known to the world it is not surprising that a widespread and growing interest in this region should be awakened. It is the constant aim of the Press to furnish perfectly reliable information on all points of interest to tourists, invalids and homeseekers, which we are now able to do with greatly increased facilities.

While the Press seeks to promote the prosperity of all Southern California by all legitimate and honorable methods, it is more directly interested in the growth and greatness of Santa Barbara. The unequalled loveliness of the climate, its most incredible healthfulness, the beauty of the scenery, the wondrous variety and fertility of the soil, the almost unlimited range of products which flourish there without irrigation, will be known from time to time by facts which cannot be controverted, in the columns of the PRESS. Any intelligent person can become familiar with this part of the State by reading the PRESS for a year.

Terms of the Daily, per annum, $7.00
Terms of the Weekly, per annum, $5.00
